chairman of entries. Because of the work and time involved in staging a large show, all reservations for space must be made with Mrs. Beck by 6 p. m. Tuesday, March 2. This committee fills out an entry card which must be placed by each exhibitor and every artistic arrangement and horticulture specimen that is to be considered by the judges for an award.

Mrs. Luther Jones, chairman of judges, has secured the service of 25 qualified horticultural judges who will determine the winners in all classes. These women, who can not accept money for their services, will be served coffee as they assemble at the Garden Center and her committee will serve a luncheon to these judges when they have finished making the awards. Each guest will be given a gift typical of our area in appreciation of her coming to assist us.

Mrs. Harry Peters is chairman of the local committee of clerks who will assist the judges and tabulate the winners in each class. Mrs. James Halbrook, Jr., is our awards chairman and is preparing the coveted ribbon awards.

Mrs. Van Horn and Mrs. R. Y. Creech, Sr., will decide questions of classification in interpreting the various classes listed in the schedule.

The classes or groups of arrangements in each section allow for much creativeness in designing appealing flower pictures. Each class is entitled to help tell the story expressed in the theme.

One group of arrangements entitled "We make Friends" is an invitational class open to members of the various Women's groups of Belle Glade, "Good Neighbors Participate" an invitational class open to members of neighboring garden clubs.

The miniatures are titled "Small things of Life" and the dried miniatures are listed as "Memories of Life." "We Give Thanks" is the group of church arrangements. Still life pictures will be displayed in the lighted recessed niches—entitled "An Everglades Scene".

The table settings will be silver anniversary buffet luncheon tables entitled "We Celebrate Our Anniversary." These will be beautiful with their coordination of linen, china and dried arrangements.

One section of arrangements has in each class a part of the story of our early settlers.

"We Migrate" is a section of home state; "The Winds Come"; "Big Winds—hurricanes"; "The Sun Shines"—It always does after a storm; "We grow Good"—The rich soil provided a livelihood; "We Learn by Doing"—Take time for industry and creativeness; "Jack Frost Comes"—We do have some cold weather. These are the dried arrangements.

This gives you an idea of the varied types and kinds of arrangements which will be shown for your enjoyment when you visit our Flower Show.

Mrs. George Royal and Mrs. J. Asper will be in charge of the refreshment booth and posted plant booth. You may find just the right plant for that spot in your house, porch or yard so be sure to visit this part of our Flower Show.

Lent At St John Episcopal Church

Ash Wednesday, next week, marks the beginning of Lent, announces the Rev. John Clarence Petrie, vicar of the Belle Glade Episcopal congregation. It is a period of special devotion and fasting in honor of the forty days when Christ fasted and prayed in the wilderness after His baptism. Since the congregation is without a building of its own the Lenten night services will take place in the homes of the members beginning Sunday, March 7.

The Law of the Episcopal Church declares that while all week days in Lent are fast days, Ash Wednesday and Good Friday are singled out. The general rule for fasting is that meat may be eaten at only one meal, and not at all on Friday; that the amount of food eaten in one day should not exceed two full meals at other seasons. Those under 21 and over 60 are exempt as well as those whose health or trying conditions of work demand full nourishment. Those exempt from the fast should make other acts of self-sacrifice. In any case people should never make a display of their acts of devotion, for in such acts, they have no value with God.

THE GREAT BUSINESS

The great business of life is to trust God. It includes all others. It permeates every day.

enjoined upon us. It is the main spring of righteous endeavor. There is not a thought, word or act that is not to be saturated with it.

This is what Jesus meant when the Jews asked Him, "What shall we do that we may work the works of God?" and He replied "This is the work of God that ye believe on Him when God hath sent." The great work of life is to be constantly believing on Jesus. There is not an hour or a moment when we can lay down this work of believing on Jesus. It enters into all our words and thoughts as Christians. It sometimes takes much power to do it. There are so many adverse, perplexing and discouraging phases of life that nothing but the great work of believing in Jesus will carry us through.

It is this faith that enables us not only to overcome the world, but also enables us to overcome the great enemy, death, and gives an abundant entrance to Heaven. Faith has to be in that to inspire courage in the midst of perplexities and trials as to be able to say, as we did the great apostle in the storm, "I believe God." (From the War Cry).

CHURCHES OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

That the remedy for hatred, selfishness, and greed is found in the love of God, as taught by Christ Jesus, will be emphasized in the April Christian Science Service Sunday.

In the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christ Jesus" passages read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include:

"If we wish to follow Christ, Truth, it must be in the way of God's appointing. . . All nature teaches God's love to man, but man cannot love God without and set his whole affections on spiritual things, while loving the material on which he lives in the more than the physical."

"We must forsake the foundation of material systems, however time-honored, if we would gain the Christ as our only Saviour" (328:3-4, 14).

This passage from the Bible will also be among those read. "How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace; that bringeth good tidings of good, that publisheth salvation; that saith unto Zion, Thy God reigneth!" (Isaiah 52:7).

NEWS OF JUNIORS AT FIRST BAPTIST SS

The program last Sunday was based on the Hymn "Tell Me the Story of Jesus," a song written by Fannie Crosby. A few of the interesting things about Fannie Crosby's life were given in this program. In spite of the fact she was blinded at the age of six weeks she wrote more hymns than any other song writer who has ever lived; more than three thousand; and she lived to be 95 years old.

Next Sunday is the last Sunday for Mr. and Mrs. Olesky. Boys from the Juniors are especially invited to be present to join in the good singing led by Mr. and Mrs. Olesky.

Boys from Mr. Nelms class of 11 year boys are appointed to act as ushers in general assembly for the quarter ending March 31st.

All the Juniors and teachers feel their efforts during our recent Rally Day were rewarded as three new members were received into the Junior Department through these efforts. These new members are Paula Parson, who entered the 11 year girls class, taught by Mrs. Gene Cross, substitute teacher; Kay Cross, who entered Mrs. Vivian Hayes class of 10 year old girls; and Roger Fields, who entered Mr. Waddell's class of 10 year boys.

All Juniors and their teachers are having a party Friday night at the park. During this time they will roast winners, marshmallows, skate and play games. All members of the department are invited.

Must Jesus Bear the Cross Alone?

A hymn that is older than the United States

"Must Jesus bear the cross alone, And all the world go free, No, there's a cross for every one, And there's a cross for me."

When your great-grandfather hitched his team to the surry and groined over the backwoods road to the meeting house that was one of his favorite haunts, when his horse's head was resting over his shoulder and walked through the thicket to the brush after the Colman's were a nation, he was singing the words of the hymn that was a favorite in England before John Wesley was old enough to even think about organizing his Methodist Church. In fact, Wesley wrote the hymn in 1693, the custom, for the conductor of one of his sermons. But at the following year the Rev. Shepherd went over to the non-conformists where he preached in a barn for seven years before he could raise enough money to build a chapel for his congregation. And so, "Must Jesus Bear the Cross Alone" made its debut in a barn in England, and it is sung today in the finest musical churches of the world.

Thomas Shepard's original lyrics began: "Shall Simon Shepherd's cross alone And other men share free?" . . . But John Wesley would have put it, "Must Jesus bear the cross alone, And all the world go free. No, there's a cross for every one, And there's a cross for me." . . . When the hymn was sung at the meeting house that was one of his favorite haunts, when his horse's head was resting over his shoulder and walked through the thicket to the brush after the Colman's were a nation, he was singing the words of the hymn that was a favorite in England before John Wesley was old enough to even think about organizing his Methodist Church. Must Jesus bear the cross alone, And all the world go free? No, there's a cross for every one, And there's a cross for me. The consecrated cross I'll bear Till death shall set me free. O, how my heart is glad to wear, For there's a cross for me.

Upon the crystal pavement, down At Jesus' pierced feet, Joyful I'll crown my golden crown, And His dear name repeat. O precious cross! O glorious cross! O resurrection day! Ye angels, from the stars come down, And bear my soul away.

man of this interdenominational and inter-racial program in Florida. Serving with him on the executive committee are Mr. Colin D. Gunn, Soil Conservation Service, Gainesville; Mr. H. G. Clayton, State Director of Extension Service, Gainesville; Mr. J. Lee Smith, Gainesville; Mr. Wm. T. Shadick, State Director, Farm Home Administration, Gainesville. Demographic, agricultural, and educational leaders serve on the Advisory Committee.

Ten churches were recognized in Florida last year for having made notable progress toward a better church, a better community, and a better world. Reports this year will cover the period from April 1, 1953 to April 1, 1954, and should be mailed to Mr. J. Francis Cooper, Editor, Agricultural Experiment Station and Extension Service, 2140 N.W. Third Place, Gainesville, Florida, May 1, 1954. An evaluation team, headed by executive committee, will review all the reports and select the top ten churches this year.

Top churches will then be judged along with the best churches of twelve other states. One of them will be named "The Rural Church of the South." Last year this distinction went to the 32-member Methodist Church, Egypt, Mississippi.

This program is designed to spread stimulating and successful church plans to the south, furnish guidance for churches in examining their programs and plans, and their progress, encourage participation in community improvement activities, promote the world mission of the church, and organize outstanding achievement in these areas.

CHURCHES HELP YOUNG COUPLES GET STARTED

"When this time of year comes around," a young wife remarked as she looked up from knitting baby clothes, "I'm so glad we don't ever have to move again."

It was the spring of the year, "moving time" in Iowa when she made this remark. The Placement Committee of her rural church had helped her and her young husband get a loan from the Federal Land Bank and purchase a 120-acre farm.

The Church of the Brethren, to which she belongs, tries to get all of its rural churches to have a Placement Committee, like this to help its young couples get started in farming. The Evangelical Lutheran Church uses about ten per cent of the investment funds of its central boards to loan to young Lutheran couples to help them buy farms or small business establishments.

Over 400 Catholic churches have parish Credit Unions to help help Catholics to locate in Catholic parishes.

 by the and was helped by the Drainage Engineer of the County Commission and by Senator Graham in creating the opinion that there are differences in Dade County but all three emphasized the need of the Overall Plan, and that Dade County is "kicking in" handsomely in addition to the Overall Plan's contribution.

The Caloushachuck was well represented, as was the Istapoga and Highlands County areas planning for "dry-ry" orders. The Volusia, Brevard and Seminole area displayed different kind of opinion as to the "how" but pleased for action of some kind.

The St. Lucie, Indian River area came with troubles, some among themselves, mainly pleading for action.

Altogether there was a unanimity of opinion as to the necessity of federal cooperation and the economic justification for such action as well as abundant testimony that local interests are also paying, even to the limit of their ability.

This is the kind of information the two groups wanted, and they received it when the speakers understood just what the province of the study included.

On Monday a hurry-up change in plans brought the groups to Pahokee at 10:30, where they were met by O. B. McClure, Iwan Meeks, Prof. Spier, George Wedgworth, Sam Knight, Herman Cline and Luther Jones, who acted as guides in cars for a visit to actual field operations. Rozelle Wilson's corn harvesting near the Pahokee Airport was visited and then George Wedgworth showed the group a herd of cows and calves which drew many compliments from the visitors.

In Sam Knight's field the group saw four celery harvesters working with one spare standing by. In the field also they saw a portable lunch and knick-knack store, as well as portable toilets for the workers. The sixteen-acre field packed out 19,000 crates of celery, all harvested on Tuesday.

On the trip to Shawano Drainage District special attention was called to the soil project located on Reese Bradstock's ranch. Raw sawgrass land on one side of the main pumping canal, with the rattle plant and fields of Shawano Development Co. just across from it, demonstrated the procedure of sub-drainage districts plus field water control by the land owner from the raw land to producing fields.

They also inspected the dairy venture of Foremost Dairy adjoining the ramie project, groups

Handy and Easy "Sign Up"

Last month's safety drive was a big success—almost. Every one helped—the schools ran machines on safe driving, Rotary put up posters, and Handy and Easy were set out on their cars.

The boys put up a big sign by the side of the highway. It said, "Slow down—the life you save may be your own." It was good idea—after the police moved the sign twelve feet.

In this column I'm ready and easy to get to, close to the road—fast, right on the sharp corner of the highway. They made

We believe that the business and professional men and women of Belle Glade and her trade area have a more comprehensive understanding of the place of the Chamber and what the organization means to the growth and prosperity," emphasized R. E. Hottel, sales manager of the company.

He discussed need for additional finances and announced the individual group financial goals as adopted in the several business clinics. These group goals are as follows:

- Agriculture — $175.00
- Automotive & Industry — 130.00

Our advisor, Mr. J. J. Holliday informed our organization that Mr. Floyd L. Northrop, District Supervisor of Agricultural Education spent all day with him Saturday, February 13. The purpose of his visit was to suggest methods of improving the instructional methods to use in our Vocational Agricultural Program. Mr. Northrop was quite pleased with the work we are doing but suggested ways and means of improving the classroom shop and land laboratory instructional procedures.

Several new projects were started this week. Melvin Stephens has planted one acre of Lima beans, Joseph W. Perry, Jr. has added 1/2 acre of okra to his project. Vanton Holland, Elliot Hudson and Alphonso Powell prepared an acre of land to plant okra.

The N.P.A. and N.H.A. organizations will have a joint meeting next week making plans for their annual banquet and hike. These two organizations are planning to have at the banquet some of the State and county officials.

Try the POWER of the CENTURY
It's the buy of the year for folks who want high performance at a low price

As the wheel of Buick's 200-hp CENTURY, something tremendously exciting is waiting to happen to you.

It's the wondrous thrill of commanding a phenomenal performer that's yours for hundreds of dollars less than the middle-price cars.

We can give you here just a quick summary of the sectional facts about this spectacular automobile:

It has the highest horsepower ever placed in a standard-production Buick—and the highest compression ratio, 8.5 to 1.

It has the highest power-to-weight ratio of any Buick ever built—with a cyclonic 200-hp V8 engine driving with unbelievable ease the nimble weight of this sizeable car—3852 pounds, for the CENTURY shown here, as it comes off the assembly line.

It carries a price that puts it substantially below the highly popular Buick SUPER—a price that buys more horsepower per dollar in a CENTURY than you get in any other automobile in America.

If it's true high performance you want, at a truly modest price, come in and meet the CENTURY close up—behind its wheel. You'll find it the buy of the year, hands down.

EVERGLADES FAIR 1954, Apr. 1-10

Outdoor Florida

By Herb Mosher

How far do you shoot head of a bird to hit it? How do you arrive at the proper "lead" for ducks, quail and similar fast-flying game?

The best answer I have ever seen is furnished this column by W. R. "Bill" Weaver of the famous gunsmith organization bearing his name. His "scope" sights are world famous. This is how Bill says you do your wing shooting:

"The amount of lead depends, of course, upon the target speed and its angle of flight. With a little experience the shooter learns the correct leads and soon takes them without consciously thinking about it. It takes a shot charge about 1-20 to 1-10 seconds to travel from the muzzle to the target. During this time the cross flying bird may move 3 feet or more. Naturally then the gun will have to be pointed this distance ahead of the bird when the gun is fired in order that the shot charge will arrive at this point at the same time the bird does.

"Leading, as just explained, takes care of the time of flight of the shot charge but there is another instant of lost time that must be considered. About one-fifth of a second between the time the mind says to pull the trigger and the instant the trigger is actually pulled. This called a person's reaction time. During this time the bird may fly ten or twelve feet!

"To compensate for this time necessary to lead the target, the gun must be swung along with, and ahead of, the target. Hold the lead and keep swinging until after the shot is fired. That's all there is to it but it's absolutely essential. As long as this is done it doesn't matter whether the gun goes off the trigger or one-fifth second later, because at all time during the swing the gun is pointing correctly."

Too Late To Classify

By Russell Kay

If you get to worrying about juvenile delinquency and think the youth of the country is going to hell on roller skates, take time out to check on the activities of our Future Farmers, Future Homemakers, 4-H Boys and Girls, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts to say nothing of the numerous Boys' Clubs found in most of our larger cities.

Unfortunately, the press, particularly our metropolitan press, seems more concerned with reporting activities of juvenile delinquents than with promoting those agencies that are doing so much to offset it by providing our youth with the leadership needed.

As corporate secretary of the Florida State Fair I have had the privilege of working with a number of such agencies and am glad that Fair officials recognize the importance of such work and doing everything possible to advance and encourage them.

During the past 10 days thousands of bright-eyed, eager youngsters swarmed the grounds of the Florida State Fair. They came from every county in the state and gained a visual education of tremendous value. Under the direction of experts they learned to judge cattle and hogs, fruit and vegetables; from county agents they learned interesting facts about the opportunities and resources of Florida.

It is gratifying to note that the Florida Chain Store Association, the Florida Bankers Association and other alert business organizations are aware of the importance of giving a helping hand to our character-building youth groups. By offering awards and making substantial contributions they are helping to expand the program and, being sound-thinking, level-headed business and industrial executives, they know that the investment they are making in our youth will pay handsome dividends.

This week it was my privilege to attend a dinner at the Columbia Restaurant in Tampa given by the Chain Store Association in honor of 4-H Clubs boys and girls. Achievement awards were presented the boys and girls who had accomplished outstanding results and attained the position of leadership.

On Negro Achievement Day at the Fair it was my privilege to present, on behalf of the Fair Association, certificates for achievement to a number of colored boys and girls enrolled as New Farmers and New Homemakers.

The State Department of Education is to be congratulated on the splendid job it has done in advancing the welfare of our farm youth and in making it possible for them to attend the Fair and participate in activities with their own programs.

If more parents and more civic leaders would interest themselves in these splendid character building organizations that are doing so much for our youth, it would go a long, long way toward reducing juvenile delinquency in Florida.

If we will provide our youth with a worthwhile interest, encourage them with leadership and reward for effort, we can direct their thoughts and actions constructively, give them resourcesfulness and strength of character and equip them to become good citizens in future years.

porting those organizations that are designed to build future citizens, we can do our part to reduce delinquency and advance the welfare of our community, state and nation.

Give our boys and girls a chance and they will give a good account of themselves in the years ahead.

VETERANS INFORMATION AND SERVICE

By Melvin T. Dixon
State Service Officer
No Delay Of School Checks For GI Students.

Under a new procedure, all Korean GI Bill veteran-students who go home for vacations or between-term school breaks will be sure to get their GI allowance checks on time.

This new speed-up policy will be followed only during all breaks in school which extend past the end of a month, and which normally would cause delays in receipt of GI checks. Such breaks include spring, summer and winter vacations, Christmas and Easter holidays, time off between semesters, and the like.

Under the new system, a veteran-trainee will be allowed to fill out his monthly certification of training, VA Form 7, 1954 . . . a form required by law . . . on his last day of school attendance, rather than after the end of the month, when it is normally due.

These certificates, signed both by the veteran and an official of his school, must be received by VA before checks may be sent out.

By completing the form ahead of time, there will be little or no chance for any delay in receiving the checks.

A veteran who goes home for a vacation stretching past the first of the month obviously would not be available to sign his certification at the proper time. If it were not for the new procedure, he'd have to wait until he returned to school to sign it. And as a result, his check would be late.

This same principle will apply in the case of a veteran who finishes his final examinations and who leaves school before the official end of the term. He, too, will be permitted to fill out the certification on his last day in class.

Contact your Veterans' Service Officer for any questions you want answered concerning your education or training program under the GI Bill.

17 TO 18½ YEAROLDS MAY RECEIVE 90 DAYS ACTIVE NAVAL RESERVE TRAINING

Opportunities for young men to receive up to 90 days of active training duty with the Naval Reserve are now open. It was announced this week, by Lieutenant (junior grade) Michael A. DeCarlo, USN, Reserve Pay Unit Personnel Officer at the Naval Air Reserve Training Unit.

High school graduates between the ages of 17 and 18½ are eligible to enlist in the Naval Reserve, receive 90 days recruit and airman training at the Naval Air Station, Jacksonville, Florida, and then be integrated into the Naval Air Reserve, as members of "Week-end Warrior" Aviation Squadrons.

Young men who are still in high school may join the Naval Air Reserve now, DeCarlo pointed out, and attend week-end drills until the summer vacation, when they may apply for the prospective active duty summer training at Miami.

In addition, veterans who were in pay grades E-2 or E-3 are eligible to enlist in the Naval Reserve and apply for active duty for 90 days in connection with the accelerated rate training program commencing in March. Training is available for the aviation ratings of metalsmith, electronics technician, machinist's mate, electrician, and also for yeoman and personnelman, at Memphis, Dallas, New Orleans, Atlanta, Jacksonville, and Miami.

All men will receive uniforms and full pay and allowances of the Regular Navy while on active duty, and two days pay for every day of authorized week-end drill.

"One advantage of this program," said DeCarlo, "is that it provides an opportunity for a young man to begin serving his selective service obligation while still in school, and ensures that he may put in his active duty with the service of his choice."

FLORIDA MERIT SYSTEM TO HOLD EXAMINATIONS

Merit System examinations will be conducted in ten cities of the state on Saturday, March 6, according to an announcement here this week. The centers include Fort Myers, Gainesville, Jacksonville, Miami, Orlando, Panama City, Pensacola, Tallahassee, Tampa, and West Palm Beach.

Examinations will be given for a number of clerical, stenographic, and beginning professional classes, and persons passing them will have their names placed on registers from which future vacancies with Merit System agencies will be filled. Agencies under the Merit System are the Civil Service Commission, the Florida Industrial Commission, the Department of Public Welfare, and the State Board of Health.

It was announced that there were a few current vacancies for "Technical" positions for men in several areas of the state, and that a number of county health units will need sanitarians within the near future. Welfare visitors and public health sanitarians are required to be college graduates.

Interested persons may obtain copies of examination announcements and official application forms from local employment offices, health, and welfare offices, or from the state office of the Merit System in Tallahassee. Applications on the required form must be filed by February 26 in order to be admitted to the examinations on March 6.

No man needs, both money and brains will soon look him up.

Other features which make this engine a long-lived, smooth, saving performer are: new low-friction (short-stroke) design. Free-Turning Overhead Valves, new 3-bearing crankshaft, and new high-turbulence combustion chambers.

Like the new Y-block V-8, this engine has Ford's deep-block design for greater rigidity, longer engine life. Also, like the V-8, you get Ford's modern manifolding, low-friction design, high-turbulence combustion chambers, and Ford's Automatic Power Pilot. ## INCREASE IN INCOME

Our President did give us some indication of this "partnership" arrangement, for he referred more than once to "reimbursable costs."

One official definition of "reimbursable costs" we find under the reclamation service — which is the father of the term — to be "flood control, navigation, fish and wildlife conservation and salinity control."

The man who wrote this definition was also talking about the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control Program, even before it was originated.

The Central and Southern Florida Flood Control Program is not a Reclamation Project.

nor does it qualify for the political "outs" designation of "pork barrel."

The Central and Southern Florida Flood Control Program is a business investment — which is strange to Federal government procedure — that has already repaid in federal taxes, the total estimated cost of phase one and two, and will continue to pay in advance for the total overall cost.

This payment will be made not ten, nor thirty, nor forty, nor fifty years "after availability of water," but before the money is spent.

Now let's examine the facts about this Central and Southern Florida Flood Control Project.

When a member of the engineering profession decided to visit this area following the '28 hurricane when more than 2500 persons lost their lives on account of FLOOD WATERS, he immediately saw the practical answer — a dike around Lake Okechobee.

The communities around this Lake have several times acknowledged this engineer's technical decision by urging the naming of this dike the Herbert Hoover dike.

That engineer had the intestinal fortitude, as President, to tell the engineers to build the dike and then find a legal vehicle on which to hang it, or words to that effect. As a humanitarian he didn't like to see Americans drowned on account of floods.

Sometime during these days of desperation Curmudgeon Harold Ickes told a delegation "No soap" when they appealed to him for help thru the reclamation service, when his question of "How much rainfall?" brought the answer "About 37 inches annually."

It's not eligible under reclamation laws; we go where there's no rain and no water, or words indicating that theme.

Nothing happened of importance towards what is now the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control Program until the FLOODS of 1947, when more than $60,000,000 damage to crops and property was suffered.

In investigations it became officially known then that our soils were oxidizing, burning, and disappearing, and the only way to save them is to keep them saturated, or keep them covered with soil or vegetation.

2. That the water table of the entire state had reached an accelerated lowering stage.

This is particularly and disastrously true along the eastern seaboard where "salinity" was the chief deterrent to use of available fresh water in the populous areas.

3. That Florida's winter home of our Nation's bird life was in a constant threat, and that fish, once plentiful, were disappearing.

So, the Corps of Engineers and local engineers came up with a proposition — the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control Program — to provide storage basins complementary to Lake Okechobee with connecting canals to catch the flood waters, impound them and save them for future use, and to prevent loss of property and life.

This scheme also provides for ground storage of flood waters into the porous aquifer of the lower east coast, which enables them to continue to grow.

It provides a fish and game refuge, active, with an annual value, by their own estimates of $291,000, operated by the Fish and Wildlife Service of the Interior Department.

Now these storage basins are located at strategic places on lands not suitable for agriculture, but the connecting canals between Lake Okechobee and the basins pass thru our agricultural area.

tion, soil conservation, navigation, and salinity control.

(3) It is "of size and complexity — beyond the means of local, public or private enterprise!"

(4) That there is more than "a reasonable degree of financial cooperation by local interests," with their portion always on hand ahead of due date, in cash — not fifty years hence.

(5) That, rather than a continuance of slowing down, a speed-up order should be given to prevent a recurrence of the '47 disaster such as was threatened in '53 on account of incompleteness of scheduled works.

Next, in order to make any use of the facilities, the owner must provide a water control system, which in this case includes canals, field ditches, pumps and houses, and rock roads for a cost of around $90 per acre.

Right at this point is a ramble operation and a dairy. These agricultural efforts have installed field water control facilities at an additional cost of $30 per acre.

These landowners spent $120 per acre.

We're in partnership as the President suggests in his budget message. We can rid ourselves of flood water and secure water for irrigation thru the Federal-State flood control facilities.

Now, on this partnership deal, suggested by President Ike, what is "a reasonable degree of financial cooperation by local interests?"

Long before the '28 hurricane which drowned many around the corner of the Lake, or the '38 hurricane which drowned more than 2,500 "local interests" had spent more than $18,000,000 thru the EDD and a minimum of that much more in subdrainage districts. Any of the modern drainage districts can take care of the water fall within its boundaries, so as far as loss of life, property and agricultural use is concerned, but they cannot take care of the "flood waters" from their neighbors.

Yes, we have paid into this partnership substantially; we are paying into this partnership. It is agreed all around that "local interests" are paying a minimum of 39% of the cost of this job, and our money has been getting rusty waiting on the Federal government to put up theirs. We've had to return more than $750,000 to the State Treasury, and are threatened with having to return more. You've heard of the $2,000,000 the C & S F Board proposes to "lend" to Uncle Sam to hasten the building of facilities "to keep flood waters of our neighbors off of us."

It is not proposed to pay in our share of this partnership over a period of fifty, forty, thirty, or even ten years. Our share of this partnership is "CIP — cash in fist."

Now we use this program is a business investment.

Well in '48 the Income Tax boys collected from Dade, Broward and Palm Beach Counties a total of $84,848,000.

In 1953 the collection was $152,161,000,000.

The increase in income taxes from these three counties, in which is located the works so far done, since the announcement that the Federal government would participate, is as follows:

1949 $ 8,682,000
1950 28,068,000
1951 41,856,000
1952 65,168,000
1953 66,312,000

Total $210,066,000

The greatest potential effect of the Overall Plan has been accomplished or is just around the corner, and is being anticipated in expansion of agriculture, industry and tourism.

What are the reimbursable costs referred to by the President?

It's certainly not for flood protection, fish and wildlife conservation, nor salinity control. Then, how much of the total can be assigned to utility of land, fresh air, and sunshine, and of that amount, how much should the Federal Government bear?

The Federal government is getting up to 70% of the "lake," or an average of 50%, and the Federal Government won't have a dime in the business when the Plan is completed.

Now gentlemen, I ask you to report to President Ike that all the specifications laid down in his budget message of January '54 are contained in the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control Program, namely:

(1) Resource conservation development necessary to support the progressively expanding demands of our increasing population and to contribute to the economic growth and security of the Nation."

(2) Vital upstream conservation, flood control, fish and wildlife conservation, soil conservation, navigation, and salinity control.

(3) It is "of size and complexity — beyond the means of local, public or private enterprise!"

(4) That there is more than "a reasonable degree of financial cooperation by local interests," with their portion always on hand ahead of due date, in cash — not fifty years hence.
